THE AUTOMATIC ORGAN.

We hold in our hands the great triumph in musical instruments of the age. During the past half century, the French and Germans have manufactured and sold instruments with double bellows, and two pedals for the feet to operate; but the want of the revolved or EXHAUSTION BELLOW, (which is the only bellows used in our instruments,) made it impossible for them to produce the mellowness and musical tone for which our instruments are celebrated.

Another objection to this method of blowing was, that both feet were occupied no opportunity was offered for the management of the swell. Within the past two years, in our men's constructed on this European plan of "double bellows" have been manufactured in this country, and to counteract this difficulty (want of a swell) a bellows has been projected from the centre of the instrument, to act upon the swell, and operated by the knee. The inconvenience and contortion necessary to effect this object, are dispensed with the use of such an advantage is nearly impossible.

Our AUTO MATIC device obviates this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more or less force, giving the desired increase or decrease in the volume of the tone. We predict for this invention a brilliant future.

The Melodeon and School Organ. For several years the superior excellence of our Melodeons has been unquestioned, and for two years past the enormous demand has made it impossible for us to meet our orders promptly. With our increased facilities we feel warranted in assuring our patrons that their orders will be promptly met, and solicit a continuance of their patronage.

Caution to Purchasers.

All of our instruments have upon the name boards in full, "GEO. A. PRINCE & CO." When a dealer represents any other instrument as "the same as ours" it is usually a mere attempt to sell an inferior instrument, on which he can make a larger profit.

MANHOOD:

IN THE YOUNG AND RISING GENERATION, the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from the ordinary diversions of the ever changing scene of the city, the powers of the body too much repressed to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

DAILY NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 12, 1866.

FOR GOVERNOR,
Jonathan Worth
OF RANDOLPH COUNTY.

TO THE POINT.

Pollard, editor of the Richmond Examiner, in his dissertations on the Radicals, employs words of "rifle-bore meaning"—unmistakable—of needle gun exactness, to express his entire hatred and contempt. The following is a fair specimen of the style of that independent sheet:

"The unnatural conduct of those fools and knaves who met last week at Philadelphia, in convention, will revolt the sensibilities of the civilized world, and can only find general approval among the most abandoned classes of mankind in barbarous regions. White men, they hate their race, and would put it below that of the brutal and inodorous negro, who is offensive to every sense; and, therefore, they would accumulate horrors upon the South, and make the sunny fields of their native States all howling wildernesses.

The language in which these fellows uttered the evil promptings of their rotten hearts, was worthy of them and the occasion. For instance a certain Rev. Dr. Bowman of New Orleans, on last Wednesday opened the convention with a prayer in which he besought heaven to "deliver us from the rule of bad men, especially from him who, through satanic agency had been raised to authority over us."

That does very well for a divine, a servant of God, in an invocation against the Chief Magistrate of the country. But here is something better in the remarks of a "Governor" and Parson—Brownlow:

"He never had held a doubtful position on any question, and he had no hesitation in saying he was for negro suffrage. He would rather be elected to an office by loyal negroes than disloyal whites; he would rather associate with loyal negroes in private life than with white rebels; he would rather be buried in a negro graveyard than in a rebel graveyard, and if he had to go to hell or heaven after death, he would rather go with negroes than with rebels."

That is a pious confession of faith that out-does the Apostles' creed in its way. In brief, Brownlow would rather go to hell with Fred. Douglass than to heaven with Robert E. Lee. That is all right. We like to see people making the best of their situation. Brownlow knows that he cannot go to heaven with any body, and, therefore, he pretends that he prefers the other place. That is the true way. What can't be cured must be endured.

But one whose name is lost to fame caps the climax of profanity, vulgarity and blasphemy. Hamilton, of Texas, in reading to the Convention an account of the President's tour to the Northwest, inquired whether his hearers desired Mr. Johnson for King or President. The classic response of "Nary one" arose from the dirty crowd, and one who is shrouded in the title of "a delegate" said: "No sir; we'd see Andy Johnson three hundred and sixty-five degrees into hell, with Bill Seward and Montgomery Blair on top of him, first."

These titbits will suffice. The best response to the Convention would be to give a full and honest account of its proceedings, and if that would not damn it to eternal infamy nothing can accomplish that deserved and desirable end.

SHORT CROPS IN THE WEST.

We are pained to learn that in some of the western counties of the State, so severe has been the drought the past season, that fearful apprehensions are entertained of a famine in many localities. In Union county the justices of the county met on the 1st inst., and passed the following resolutions:

1st Resolved, That the almost entire failure of the crops in consequence of the protracted drought, following so soon after the severe scourging suffered by this county from the march through it of large portions of both armies, presents the gloomy prospect of great suffering, if not starvation, to many of our citizens.

2d Resolved, That the most fortunate of our people will find the strictest economy necessary to enable them to pass safely through the trying ordeal before them, and that they will be unable to do much, if anything, for the more needy.

3d Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Governor of the State, respectfully requesting him to take such measures as he may think best calculated to prevent, or at least to mitigate, the sad condition of things herein contemplated.

While there is, no doubt, a great scarcity of grain in the West, we think the alarm unfounded, for, the eastern counties will have enough and to spare, and it would be inhuman to entertain for a moment, the idea that these people would ship to any market outside of the State, knowing that their brethren of the west were suffering for bread. If the condition is properly represented, it will be found that our more favored people will give of the abundance with which Providence has blessed them—and give freely. It only remains for the prominent citizens of that section to present their claims, and the appeal will be considered made.

Of the abundance of fruit in the west—the best, too, in the world—quantities might be shipped east, and in return, carry back corn. Try the experiment western men.

A BOMB SHELLED INTO THEIR RANKS.

We publish entire to-day, a letter from Mr. John N. Washington, to the editor of the Newbern Times, respectfully disclaiming any affiliation with the Radical party, and defining his position in the most unmistakable language. We call the special attention of our readers to this noble and patriotic letter—read it, and pass it to your neighbor.

THE LIONS AND THE LION-ESS.

The following from a Radical sheet will show better than a world of description what sort of a body was the Mulatto or Nigger Convention:

"Governor Brownlow, Fred Douglass and Anna Dickinson seemed to be centres of attraction for the delegates and the audience."

A renegade Southerner and apostate parson in Brownlow; a Northern nigger in Fred Douglass, and an unsexed woman in Anna Dickinson!—What a glorious triumvirate. They mark you, were the centres of "attraction" for both delegates and audience. The three, also, were the pet speakers of the Convention. O Tempora! O Mores!

[COMMUNICATED.]

WAYNESVILLE, Sept. 3.

To the Editor of the News:

I am now at a village situated on the highest ground of any valley between the Atlantic and Mississippi Valley, 300 miles west of Goldsboro', where the climate, even now in the warmest days of the Atlantic States, is quite cool and pleasant. The corn crop west of the Ridge, with the exception of poor high-lands, are generally good.

The citizens on my line of travel from Morehead City, are generally favorable to the measures of reconstruction proposed by President Johnson, sanctioned by the Philadelphia Convention. Few and far between, like angels visits, are the radicals; and they are looked upon as enemies of their country, leagued with the disunionists of the North against the people of the sunny South. So far as I have been informed, not a soldier, worthy of being called by that name, unite in favor of the disunion, radical policy of the North. While willing to the conciliatory policy of President Johnson, they can never consent to the radical policy which disfranchises the leading white men of the South, confiscates their property, enfranchises the negro, and places General Lee, General Johnson, and the thousands of brave men of the South below the meanest free negro, who lives by robbing hen-roosts and committing other depredations, while good citizens are asleep. The Southern soldiers say that they are for peace, on the terms proposed by President Johnson, and in favor of re-establishing the Constitution and Union of the States thereunder. But if the radical policy be carried out, which substitutes disunion for the union of the States, disfranchisement of southern citizens, with the confiscation of their property, to enfranchise the negroes and secure to them the homes and possessions of the whites, to be taxed without representation or protection of law, they have no part or lot in such an unconstitutional Union, or such a despotism built on the free institutions of our fathers, and misnamed the American Republic.

JUNES.

Mr. Jackson, representative in the State Legislature for Jackson county, Tenn., has brought a suit for $100,000 against the Radical members of the House for false imprisonment.

From the Newbern Times.

NEWBERN, Sept. 8, 1866.

Mr. Editor: I read in your issue of this morning, with great surprise, my name announced among the delegates appointed by a meeting composed, as it is there stated, of "unmistakably loyal citizens," to a convention to be held in Raleigh, on the 20th inst.

If I understand the object of that convention, it is to bring out candidates in opposition to the policy of the President of the United States, and the present able and acceptable Governor of this State. I know of nothing in my intercourse with my fellow-citizens of this city, (and it has been particularly free and candid with a large number of those who composed that meeting) that could for a moment justify them in supposing that I could under any circumstances, affiliate with those who seem to have banded together for the purpose of undermining the only foundation upon which I conceive any rational hope for the future can be based.

In a letter which I published in February last, (not particularly acceptable to my southern friends,) I expressly and unequivocally endorse and recommend the policy of reconstruction of the President, then in process of development. I have seen nothing since which has in any way tended to modify that opinion, but everything to raise and intensify my admiration of the greatness of the head and heart, that could conceive a plan so prescient of every requisite necessary to the accomplishment of an object which the whole civilized world looked upon, as at once so noble in its purposes and results; and yet so difficult of attainment. It is my solemn conviction that the destinies of this whole nation depend upon the successful consummation of this plan. Not because in its distinction the attempt is made to wipe out the manhood of ten sovereign States, and trample them in the dust, but because the same madness which is necessary to accomplish this, will inevitably bear away in its then resistless torrent every vestige of right and liberty in the western world.

The great and good of all parties have clearly seen this. Hence the Philadelphia convention of the 14th of August. A convention that has scarcely ever been equalled, certainly never surpassed, in the intellect and character of its members, or in the momentous issues that hung upon its deliberations.

So impressed were these great and good men with the fearful danger which threatened the whole country, that all minor differences of feelings or interest were awed into silence. And, with unanimity which on this occasion rises into sublimity, renewing with fraternal concord patriotic vows worthy of the best days of the Republic, devoted themselves anew to its preservation and perpetuation. In this sublime spectacle the eye of faith cannot fail to recognize the power of Him who "maketh men to be of one mind in an house."

With such convictions as these my tongue would be paralyzed, and my hand fall nerveless by my side, were I to attempt to use the one or the other in such a parabolic contest.

Perhaps I may be excused for saying a word or two upon this term—"unmistakably loyal." I am sure, I think I come squarely within its protecting folds—and am entitled so to write myself—but not more so than thousands of gallant spirits who honor the soil of their native homes. It seems to me that the public mind has been twisted into a very kink on this subject. If I were called upon to point out the most "unmistakably loyal" men to the United States Government in the Southern States, I would point to those who, with a bravery and self-sacrifice only attained by the highest inspirations of patriotism, risked their all in a contest in which they believed they were right; and having been beaten, frankly accepted the result, and came forward and pledged their word of honor henceforward to bear true allegiance to the Stars and Stripes.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, permit me earnestly to appeal to both sides, (in this unnatural contest) for the exercise of mutual forbearance. What occasion is there for us to call each other fiend names? What will it effect, except what every one professes a fervent desire to avoid? Why should there be hard feelings between us? Both sides undoubtedly were actuated by high patriotic motives in the late fearful contest. The South was worsted, and bows to the result. Why not, then, like brave and magnanimous foes, shake hands and become noble and generous friends?—God grant that this may speedily happen.

Very respectfully, your obt. servt., JOHN N. WASHINGTON.

"GETTING BACK INTO THE UNION."

At the close of the war, when the relations between owner and slave were so suddenly changed, a farmer in Chatham county called up his slaves and gave them a truthful and candid statement of affairs. He told them to visit some of the neighboring plantations, enquire what others were giving for hands, return, and all who wished to remain with him at the ruling prices could do so; telling them at the same time that all who left then, or in the future, after engaging to remain need not expect any more employment from him.

A large majority, if not all of them, concluded to remain, and commenced work as if no interruption had taken place. After awhile one of them,—

Jerry—thought that working with his former master and at his "old home" even for wages, was not his idea of freedom. So he determined to start out "on his own hook."

Nothing was heard of him for a long time, but as the winter set in, Jerry was frequently seen in the neighborhood and sometimes near his old home. ["Oh! darkies how my heart grows weary," &c.]

Cold weather commenced. Mr. C. determined to kill his hogs and put up his bacon for the year. Going out very early one morning to commence the operation, to his surprise, he saw Jerry standing among the hands as if he was ready to assist.

When he stopped where the hands were, Jerry stepped up and offered his services. As he had formerly been Mr. C's butcher, he consented to his assisting in the "killing."

The hogs were killed and packed. When night came Mr. C. gave him a bag of pork sufficient in quantity for the payment of a week's labor. Still he did not leave for his home—if he had one. He loitered about and kept near Mr. C. as if he wished to say something and did not know how to commence. He was evidently confused. Noticing his actions, Mr. C. said, "well Jerry, are you satisfied with the payment for your day's work?" "Oh yes sir, more than enough 'tis. But that is not what I want. I come over to-day to see if I could 'get back into the union, sir.'"

Mr. C. related this anecdote to several gentlemen who were at his house, and as he finished one of them asked him if he made Jerry take a "test oath before taking him back into the union." He replied that he thought Jerry sufficiently "reconstructed" and dispensed with it.—Fayetteville News.

A SAD ENDING OF A TRAGIC AFFAIR.—The younger Walton, who was shot at Buckingham Court House recently by Mr. James Leach, has died of his injuries, thus father and son coming to their end at the hands of Mr. Leach.

On Wednesday evening last the Rev. Dr. J. H. Leach, the father of the young man engaged in this sad affair, died suddenly at his residence in Cumberland County, near Farmville, supposed from trouble arising from this unfortunate occurrence.—Dr. L. was an aged and distinguished Minister of the Presbyterian Church, and has been stationed in Cumberland County the greater portion of his life. He was well known through that entire section, and was beloved and respected by every one. We have often listened to his able discourses, and can truly say that he stood among the first Divines of the State. He will be sadly missed by his church and the community generally in the section in which he resided.—Petersburg Advertiser.

BARN BURN.—In Union county, near Walkersville, on Tuesday night last, the lightning struck Mrs. Susan Norwood's barn, burning it to the ground with its contents, consisting of all her provender, wagon, buggy, &c. The loss is quite a severe one to Mrs. Norwood.

LOCAL.

The Concert which takes place to-night, will afford our citizens and sojourners, an opportunity of listening to the entrancing performance of Prof. Leo P. Wheat, a native artist, who has recently returned from Europe, and who for some time past has been bewitching the citizens of Raleigh by his masterly execution on the Piano.

The instrument to be used to-night is a Grand Concert Piano of unsurpassed tone and finish. It is from the factory of Messrs. Wm. Knabe & Co., Baltimore, from which place it arrived at Raleigh on Friday last.

The efforts put forth by the lady managers of the Concert, should be rewarded with a brilliant success.—Sacrificing personal feelings, met at all points with disheartening obstacles and disappointments, they have never shrunk from their purpose; and having tunneled through the Alps of difficulties that towered above them, they await the reward due to their perseverance.

We have been favored with a programme of the performances of to-night, and we doubt if it were possible to have made a more brilliant and judicious selection.

REV. FRED. FITZGERALD.—From a lady of this town, we have received the following communication; and in laying it before our readers, take the liberty of saying, that the suggestion thrown out is eminently proper, and we trust will meet with a prompt and liberal response. The communication, in speaking of the death of this much beloved man, says:

"No event connected with the church has ever transpired that has cast a more general sadness and deeper regret over its people. Beloved as this truly great and good man was in life, it seems to me that we should perpetuate his memory by some token of respect which may prove gratifying to all.

"To the untiring efforts and great energy of this beloved minister, the people of St. Stephen's are deeply indebted; for, had it not been for his faithful perseverance through many trying difficulties that we cannot begin to realize, we should, in all probability have been this day without a place of worship. I can suggest nothing which would seem more appropriate than the erection of a handsome Tablet in St. Stephen's church; and I feel confident that each member (for to them I appeal) will gladly contribute to this labor of love.

"Should this suggestion meet with approval, will some one be kind enough to make a move in the right direction, that this design may be accomplished at once. A member of St. Stephen's.

Body Found.—Some children who had gone on a fishing frolic accidentally discovered the body of a white man, floating on the water in a marl hole, on a plantation seven miles from this town, in the direction of Snow Hill. The body was taken out, but had been dead so long that we understand it was impossible to recognize it.—It is believed the man was murdered and then thrown into this hole, as a place of concealment.

SCUPPERNON GRAPES.—Our market is being well supplied from the country, with this delicious grape, which is selling at from eight to ten cents per quart. It would be well, however, for young people to eat moderately of them, as, in our opinion, they will produce chills quite as soon as watermelons. We have already heard of three cases of chills, as the result of eating too many grapes.

AN IMPORTANT SECRET FOR YOUNG MEN.—The thing for every young man to strive for, if he be ambitious of pecuniary success in this world, is a speciality in his business. No matter what trade or profession he may choose, let him adopt some particular branch or department of it in which to render himself famous. He may then render himself necessary to those who employ his services, and thus receive his own price for that which he does particularly well.

Without this special superiority, he comes into competition with the great mass of mediocrity, and must expect a mediocre compensation only in return. The pleasant eminence of excellence, however, is not to be gained by wishing merely. It requires good, hard work, and plenty of it. The world does not pay people for being idle, nor for that which is idly done. There is labor to be done in all professions, however easy they may seem after they are learned, and the beginner should never flinch from it, for it is only by his own exertions that he can attain the speciality that is to bring him future honors, and better yet, future gold.

REMEMBER, that the concert, for the benefit of St. Stephen's church, will come off this evening at the court house. The programme has been selected with great care, and the pieces are all popular, and of the most finished style. With Mr. Wheat, and the young ladies who will participate in the entertainment, we can promise a rare musical treat to our citizens.

The attention of the public is called to our new advertisements to-day. Armstrong, Cator & Co., a firm as well known hereabouts as any house in Baltimore, offer inducements to old customers to visit them again. Do so, for they merit it.

Mrs. Gen. Robt. Ransom makes a correction in her former advertisement.

DON'T BE A LOAFER.—Young man, pay attention! Don't be a loafer; don't call yourself a loafer; don't keep loafer's company; don't hang about loafing places. Better work than sit around day after day, or stand about corners with your hands in your pockets. Better for your own health—better for your own prospects. Bustle about, if you mean to have anything to bustle about for.—Many a poor physician has obtained a real patient by riding after an imaginary one. A quire of blank paper, tied with red tape, carried under a lawyer's arm, may procure him his first case, and make his fortune.—Such is the world; to him that hath shall be given. Quit dreaming and complaining; keep busy and mind your chances.

In the following article, which we find going the rounds, is a volume of good sense, and wholesome advice, which it would be well for both old and young to heed.

William Wirt's letter to his daughter on the "small sweet courtesies of life," contains a passage from which a great deal of happiness might be learned—"I want to tell you a secret. The way to make yourself pleasing to others is to show them attention.—The whole world is like the miller at Mansfield, 'who cared for nobody—no, not he, because nobody cared for him.' And the whole world would serve you so, if you gave them the same cause. Let every one, therefore see that you do care for them, by showing them what Sterne so happily called the small courtesies, in which there is no parade, whose voice is to still to tease, and which manifest themselves by tender and affectionate looks, and little acts of attention, giving others the preference in every little enjoyment, at the table, in the field, walking, and standing."

ONE BY ONE, THEIR TRUE CHARACTER IS BEING DEVELOPED.—From a Richmond exchange, we learn that one Mary Ann Waldren, a yankee school marm, employed in that city to learn the young colored idea how to shoot, has fallen from her high position.—She got along there very well until she commenced the target practice with the needle gun and rifle whisky, when the charges were so great that she was knocked over several times, and rendered unfit for duty. The colored gentry, thinking that their youthful scions and "scioness" might not profit by such instructions, discharged the "Gentle Annie." Since that time she has been wandering about the city like a young Mrs. Dr. Walker, practising the various professions which ex-school marm follows, and on Friday night was found in Rocketts, "shot in the neck."

A man newly married, being about to leave home, said to his wife: "Now Julia, you may do any thing you please while I am away, except ride Jowler, the house dog." "Ride Jowler! what do you mean?" "Never mind, only I warn you not to ride Jowler." When the husband came home, Julia had a black eye, and an arm in a sling. "Why, Julia, what's the matter?" "Well, you told me not to ride Jowler, and I thought it must be very nice or you wouldn't have told me not to do it, so I got on his back and he threw me down stairs."

Mr. O'Flaherty undertook to tell how many were at the party:—"The two Crogons was one, myself was two, Mike Finn was three, and—ah—who the deuce was four? Let me see (counting his fingers,) the two Crogons was one, Mike Finn was two, myself was three, and—bedad, there was four of us, but St. Patrick couldn't tell the name of the other. Now it's meself that has. Mike Finn was one, the two Crogons was two, meself was three, and—by my soul, I think there was but three of us after all."

THE ONLY DAILY PAPER

BETWEEN RALEIGH and NEWBERN, and WILMINGTON and PETERSBURG.

THE VERY BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN THE STATE.

PUBLICATION RESUMED.

The publication of the Daily News, which was suspended on the 18th of May, on account of the total destruction of the office by fire, is resumed to-day.

OUR DESIGN.

It is the aim of the publishers to make the paper all which its most sanguine friends desire it to be, a vehicle not only for the transmission of sound political doctrines; but for the latest and most reliable news.

No efforts will be spared to place the Daily News in the front rank of the press of the State.

OUR LOCATION.

The central position of Goldsboro', the steady and constant stream of travel which flows through it, and the ease with which news is obtained, make it one of the most eligible points in the State for the publication of a first class newspaper.

MARKETS.

Special attention will be paid to secure the most reliable reports from New York, Baltimore, Wilmington and Newbern, in addition to our Telegraphic Dispatches.

EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT.

The editor will endeavor to make this Department sound and conservative; but believing that the readers of a daily Journal greatly prefer having the latest news to any long drawn out editorials, he will seek to make his "strong by rather than long by," filling the limited space at his disposal with items of interest and value.

LOCAL COLUMN.

Attention will be paid to the Local Department. Items of interest for this column are solicited, if left on our table, and are found to be unobjectionable, they will promptly appear in appropriate garb.

ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

No person or State offers to advertisers a better medium for the circulation of information relative to goods, wares, or merchandise, real or personal estate, which they may have for sale, or which they may desire to purchase.

Goldsboro, N. C., July 1, 1866. 195-1f.

To the Farmers, Merchants and others of North Carolina:

HAVING ON MY RETURN FROM the Southwest, after the surrender of the Confederate forces in the Department of the Trans-Mississippi, secured an interesting and valuable

JAMES GORDON & COMPANY, Commission Merchants of Norfolk, Virginia, a House well and favorably known to the people of North Carolina.

FOR THE LAST FOUR YEARS,

I dealt from those with whom I was identified in upholding the great principles for which the Southern people so earnestly struggled, and for which, as a Journalist, I am still contending, and shall continue to do so, as a private citizen, that shall encourage me in the effort to gain for myself and those dependent on me an honest livelihood, promising that when I shall cease to do so, my support, I shall also cease to expect or ask it.

That I may be the more accessible to the friends of the Union in North Carolina, I shall remain in Wilson, where those wishing to see me on business with the House in Norfolk, will always find me at my office in the North Carolina building.

Perpetual Calendar

"A CALENDAR FOR THE CHRISTIAN ERA, combining the Julian and Gregorian in des. of reckoning time, by James Rumley, of N. C."

Copyright Secured.

The subscriber having copyright this most valuable of all the "Calendars" ever presented to the public, is prepared to supply the demand for them to any extent.

Previous Efforts.

Many attempts have been made, from time to time, to secure a Calendar by which all the dates of the Christian Era could be accurately and at the same time readily found. These attempts, however, have all failed, because the authors have sought to condense too much, and because they are really not conversant with the subject of which they treated, and which they vainly endeavored to elucidate.

What I claim.

I claim for the Calendar, now presented, perfect simplicity of arrangement, combined with the most infallible accuracy. The plan is so simple that any one who can use an ordinary Almanac, or Consulting House Calendar, cannot fail to see clearly into the working of this. True, just, present or future can be immediately found.

Its accuracy will bear the test of the most rigid scrutiny. I invite criticisms, and am fully prepared to accept of an enlightened public judgment for a frank expression of opinion as to its merits.

It supplies a Want.

To supply a want long felt, the author has appended to the Calendar, under the head of "Explanatory Remarks," a succinct, but most valuable history of the Julian Calendar from the time of Julius Caesar, and of the astronomical causes which led to the change made by Pope Gregory XIII. in 1582. These notes alone are worth the price of the Calendar.

OBJECTIONS ANSWERED.

If any object to the space the Calendar occupies, the objection is answered by the reply that any attempt at condensation would be a sacrifice of

COTTON GINS.
MANUFACTURED BY
W. G. CLEMONS, BROWN & CO.,
COLUMBUS, GA.

WE HAVE RESUMED THE MANUFACTURE of Cotton Gins in this city, and will be prepared to fill orders by 1st June next. As we shall not be, as heretofore represented by travelling agents, parties wishing our Gins will confer a favor by sending in their orders at an early day. As owing to the demand we shall be unable to keep a stock in the hands of our retail agents, as it was our practice before the war. All business transactions heretofore now reduced to cash on sales will be made on the basis of ready pay. Our Gins are too well known to require any special notice or commendation; we believe they are unrivalled in the chief points of excellence which go to make up a superior machine, namely: Speed, light draught and good sample.
Our DOUBLE CYLINDER GINS will be found superior to the single cylinder, when parties have steam or good water power to give them the necessary speed. In all cases when this can be done, we recommend them in preference to the single cylinder. If, however, indifferent or inefficient power is used, they will not do as well as the single Gin.
Messrs. DE ROSSET & CO., Wilmington, N. C., are our general agents for the State of North Carolina.
W. G. CLEMONS, BROWN & CO.,
Columbus, Ga., 24th April, 1866.

WE will give prompt attention to orders for the above celebrated Gins from any part of the State. The price is five dollars ($5) per Saw at the Factory, and five dollars for each Gin will only be charged to purchasers for transportation to this point.

TO THE WOMEN OF THE SOUTH.

The end we propose is the cause of the South. It is neither party, nor section, nor division. The obligations of the survivors to the memory of the martyrs of the war address the South as one family, wherein, though there will be degrees of affliction and bereavement, none are without sorrow and grief. It is not, however, to hearts crushed by personal sorrows, much as to gratitude cherished for noble deeds by noble men, we appeal. With this the southern heart throbs with one impulse, and is ready to testify its inextinguishable sympathy.

It shall be our endeavor to rescue from the oblivion to which they are passing the graves of the great host which perished in the war, and sleep undistinguished in our cemetery. Their memory, history will transmit from age to age, propounding without number illustrious examples from which the noblest of every age may catch new inspiration. We propose the humble tribute yet the more touching to relatives and friends, and even to the general heart,—that of identifying with durable monuments the ground where sleep the honored dead—tempting thither by its becoming habitude the countless throng, who would do homage to such dead. Our designation is "Hollywood Memorial Association of Richmond"—piped to apply the means which may be provided to the permanent protection and adornment of the graves of the Confederate dead interred in Hollywood Cemetery. Those contributing to the association will be enrolled as members; and contributions may be remitted to the Treasurer, Mrs. CHAS. G. BARNEY, Box 810; and letters addressed to the Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. DR. JAS. BOLTON. Information will be furnished at all times by the President and by any member of the Memorial Committee.

There is but one thing left us, as a people, which no enemy's hand can wrench from us:—"The memory of the Past"—Let us then keep bright the most precious jewel in our crown of sorrow—"the graves of our glorious dead. Let a people's gratitude lay immortal laurels o'er "The sacred grave

Of those who vainly braved
Died for the land they could not save."
Virginia calls to us to assist her in the sad pleasure of perpetuating the memory of our fallen, in the eyes of the world, by erecting fitting monuments in Hollywood Cemetery, at Richmond. The work is one in which every Southern woman should delight to do her best.

I appeal to the women of North Carolina to come forward and aid their sister State, in paying the last tribute to the defenders of our "Lost Cause," remembering with feelings of just pride, that thousands of our heroic soldiers sleep well on the soil of Virginia.

I shall take pleasure in forwarding to the Treasurer of the Hollywood Memorial Association, any contributions I may receive for this purpose.
All contributions will be acknowledged through the columns of the Goldsboro' Daily News.
